

Intel® Teach Elements - Australia

Facilitation Option 1 – Facilitation Kit (for individual facilitators, education departments and sectors)

Process to obtain a Facilitation Kit:

1. Read the terms of use below.

2. Email Intel's Regional Training Agency (RTA) in Australia education@crossmark.com.au confirming your agreement to the terms of use, and informing them which course(s) you need Facilitation Kit(s) for.

3. The RTA will respond – they will either seek clarification from you, or forward the Facilitation Kit(s) by email. If you need to contact the RTA by telephone, please dial (02) 9439 1233 and ask for the Intel® Teach Program Team.

Terms of Use for Intel® Teach Elements Facilitation Guides

- a) You may copy, print, or post to your own password-protected web site content from the Facilitation Guide provided:
 - Content from the Facilitation Guide is shared only with those who are participating in the Course(s) that you are delivering.
 - If content from the Facilitation Guide is posted to a password-protected site, you will only allow access to Course participants.
 - You may not post the Intel copyrighted Facilitation Guide on a web site that is not password-protected or that is available to an audience broader than your participants

- b) If other facilitators or potential facilitators wish to access the Facilitation Guide, you are required to refer them to the relevant state/sector coordinator or education@crossmark.com.au to apply for their own copy. You are, however, entitled to share any course strategies or materials that you have created yourself.

- c) You are permitted to modify, alter, translate, update, or create derivatives of the Facilitation Guide to suit your needs. You agree that a changed or updated Facilitation Guide shall be subject to review and confirmation by Intel to insure compliance with these Terms of Use and to protect Intel's copyright, such confirmation not to be unreasonably withheld.

- d) You hereby grant to Intel a worldwide, exclusive, royalty-free, perpetual, irrevocable license (with the right to sublicense) to the Facilitation Guide as adapted by you pursuant to paragraph c above.

- e) Intel owns and retains all intellectual property rights in the Facilitation Guide.